ACTION

ACTION 5.0 is a premium site providing information on Value Management Systems and Process Improvement Programs. These tools result from fifty years of development and practice with and for doers getting the job done.

We provide the core tools of method and process, emphasizing a practical progression of successes.

One lesson learned is that programs fail because *systems thinking never becomes enculturated. Our core model is the Toyota Production System, enshrining quality and process improvement as integral parts of their culture.

The book ACTION 5.0 The Power of the Relational Cycle is the partner of our newly published book, ERP 5.0 Structured Process, available on Amazon.

We'll get this job done as quickly as possible and look forward to you joining us in the fight for safety, quality, resource conservation, and national solvency.

*Systems thinking- there are seven free power points on this website addressing systems thinking in various forms.
